HARPER GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

JURY FINDS AGED DEFENDANT GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER IN FIRST DEGREE.

The Harper murder trial resulted in a verdict of manslaughter in the first degree, the penalty being left to the discretion of the court. The maximum, in such a case is forty years. The case was given to the jury about 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and the jury deliberated until about 2:30 this afternoon before reaching an agreement. An appeal will probably be taken, but if he loses, the old man will probably not long survive the life in prison, he being in the neighborhood of seventy years of age. The killing of Cecil Davis is comparatively fresh in the minds of most readers of the News. It occurred in the early part of December. Davis was shot and killed in or near his cotton field in the vicinity of Steedman, and Harper was arrested for the crime. He pleaded self-defense, but the state made a strong case against him and the jury evidently did not view the killing as a case of self defense.

This afternoon Guy Houghton and O. B. Morris are being tried on a charge of grand larceny. These are the men who were located sometime ago by Chief Hounshell after some of their stolen goods had been found by a boy and the matter reported to the chief. The goods were found to have been taken from stores at Weleetka, and on trial at Okemah the entire bunch either pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary, or else were convicted. If convicted again in the present trial, they will have a long term to serve.

Other cases disposed of are as follows: Sam Wade, assault with attempt to rape; plea of not guilty withdrawn, plea of guilty to assault entered and fined $100.

Ed Price, grand larceny; Grover Amburg, arson; Joe Gillispie, burglary, continued for term. Three or four other short cases are yet to be disposed of before the court takes up the civil docket.

MRS. C. A. POWERS ILL WITH MENINGITIS

Mrs. C. A. Powers was stricken with meningitis this morning and is in a most critical condition, having been unconscious the greater part of the day. A nurse was wired for and is expected to arrive this afternoon. The patient is receiving the best of medical attention, and it is hoped that the crisis of the disease has been passed and that she may soon recover.

MRS. GENTRY GETS LIFE SENTENCE

Oklahoma City, Ok., March 7.—Mrs. Bessie Gentry, charged with the murder of her husband, Thomas J. Gentry was today convicted of murder and sentenced to life imprisonment.

The trial was one of the most sensational ever held here. The principal witness for the prosecution was Jesse Mackey, who with Mrs. Gentry and her brother, Maurice Weightman, was arrested immediately after the discovery of the crime, and who later turned state's evidence.

The defense in the trial of Mrs. Gentry has attempted to fasten the crime upon Mackey. Intimate relations between Mrs. Gentry and Mackey were admitted by both sides during the trial.

Maurice Weightman, the woman's brother, who is alleged to have fired the shot is yet to be tried.

It is believed that Jesse Mackey, who turned state's evidence, will get a ten year sentence.

Again gloom has ruled the day, and although fair weather is promised for tomorrow, the weather man has missed his guess so often lately, that this forecast will not be credited very far until it really proves to be fair.

ADA IS VERY MUCH ALIVE

MASS MEETING CONSIDERS KATY FREIGHT DIVISION AND McALESTER RAILROAD.

Bad as the weather was last evening it did not dampen the ardor of a large crowd of city boosters who met at the city hall to discuss the matter of securing the Katy freight division and the possibility of securing the McAlester railroad, and the manner in which the subjects were handled made it evident that the real booster spirit is still very much alive and that the citizens of Ada can be relied upon to respond to any call.

W. S. Morrison was elected chairman of the meeting. A. K. Thornton stated the object of the meeting and the freight division matter was considered first.

C. A. Lindstrom, local agent of the road, was called for, and he stated that he had had a conversation with Supt. Brown, who said the road preferred to locate the division at Ada if satisfactory terms could be agreed upon, and that he would like to have a proposition from the city as to how long free water would be given the road. It is understood that Konawa has offered a cash bonus of $5,000, ground needed for terminals, and free water for twenty-five years. Mr. Lindstrom also stated two crews would lie over at Ada, a total of ten men, and that in time other employees might also be placed here. He also stated that an appropriation of $1,400 has been made for enlarging the depot.

Tom Hope favored granting the road free water for a period of five years, and giving the assurance that no effort would be made to open 10th street. John Rinard stated that he was disposed to think the city might afford to do this. J. W. Hays was opposed to set a precedent of giving water absolutely free. J. B. Bruner was somewhat of the same opinion, but E. B. Austin seemed to voice the sentiment of the meeting by stating that he favored making the best terms possible and not allow the opportunity to pass unimproved. A number present thought the road should be charged a nominal rate for water.

On motion of W. C. Duncan a committee composed of Tom Hope, A. K. Thornton and W. S. Morrison was elected to confer with the committee from the council and with Supt. Brown as soon as he could come to Ada. At this conference it will be definitely settled just what the road proposes to do and what the city feels disposed to offer.

The McAlester railroad project was next considered. No one knew much about the inside facts of the affair, but Tom Hope said that if the promoter of the road is the man by that

Judging from the number of uprisings Mexicans have probably found that all tyranny was not embodied in Diaz. ## RECORD OF GRAFT AND INCOMPETENCE

(By Winfield Jones.)

Washington, Mar. 8.—Though grafters have been found in every government department and huge sums of money stolen in one way or another, the Department of the Interior leads the list of departments in furnishing rich spoils for financial pirates. During the last twenty-five years it has been estimated that more than $75,000,000 has been stolen from the government in the shape of lands. Recently this estimate has been somewhat augmented when it was found that certain corporations had laid greedy hands on valuable mineral lands in the west and in Alaska. In Alaska alone the total land grabbing has been estimated at over $200,000,000.

This is one of the fruits of a republican administration.

Land depredation in the early days was confined mainly to the ranchers. This form of land grabbing was termed "illegal fencing." From that the frauds extended to real estate dealers who bought soldier scrip, homestead entry deeds, lieu scrip, and other forms of government deeds conveying public lands to private owners. In later days corporations entered the field until practically all lands in the west were owned by syndicates.

Public clamor made it mandatory on the part of the government to undertake an investigation. Detectives were hired, special bureaus were organized, and the work of reclaiming lands illegally obtained from the government was commenced. The mare's nest thus unearthed brought within the reach of the law some of the most prominent men in public and private life. Numbers of the men were sent to the penitentiary and others were allowed to retain their good names and reputations only after the strongest pressure was brought to bear.

This condition of affairs greatly reflected upon the various republican administrations. Not a Secretary of the Interior department down to the Ballinger regime under Taft passed four years in office without having been under fire. Either as to his action in respect to the opening of the public lands to entry or in non-prosecution of the grafters who obtained lands from the government. Some harsh criticism was directed to several of the secretaries and in one case it has been openly stated that the Cabinet officer was "too closely allied with the interests" to dispel the cloud of graft.

Secretary Ballinger, who resigned his portfolio was under constant fire from the time he entered President Taft's cabinet. The finger of accusation was pointed at him by reason of his action in respect to the Cunningham coal claims in Alaska. In which it was alleged that Mr. Ballinger had passed the claims after having been advised that they were tainted with fraud.

In the main, however, large corporations of the country have been the principal offenders. Real estate firms, mining firms, and other companies engaged in large industries in the middle west have been accused at different times of land grabbing. The most gigantic frauds, however, were those carried on by a ring of real estate dealers in San Francisco. Their mode of operation defied detection by the officers of the government for years.

Dummy entrymen were procured and deeds to large tracts of land obtained. Lands worth anywhere from $125 an acre to $250 an acre were secured for from $5 to $500 per tract of 160 acres. Often the ring would have legislation passed by congress which would be to their interest, such as the creation of forest reserves where thousands of acres of their property was located. In lieu of this land the ring would obtain deeds to other and more expensive lands. These operations were carried on successfully for years until in the administration of Secretary Hitchcock special detectives were employed to run down the thieves. A number of them were routed out of the general land office in this city and in some of the western states. Through these men information was gathered concerning the ring.

Of one San Francisco firm the department got such information as practically cleaned up the greater part of the grafters in one fell swoop. The dominant member of this firm was a man of the highest reputation, prominent in club and social circles. He grew from poverty to affluence within a short while. After a trial which covered the history of his crimes for more than 10 years, he was sentenced to the penitentiary. At present the Interior Department has classified the various forms in which homestead and other entries are made. They are the homestead

Heat is what you want when you buy Coal—not ashes and clinkers. The Coal you buy from us is handled by us simply because we have made a thorough investigation of the fuel question and know that the DEWAR Soft Lump Coal actually carries more heat units than coal from any other mines.

Remember if you get 1500 lbs. of lump coal and 500 lbs. of slack for you have really only 1500 lbs. of coal as the slack is worthless to you. We would not let you have slack if you wanted it as we need it for our boilers, so be sure and get our prices before you buy.

Organ Grinders and Actresses.

To the News:

Somebody said when one keeps harping on their ancestry is a sign the best part of that family is in the grave.

An advance notice of one of the cast in "As Told in the Hills" which was billed for Ada, is a concrete example of this. It was in your issue of Wednesday and follows:

"Miss Mabel Owen who will play the feature part in 'As Told in the Hills,' is a great granddaughter of Sir John Owen of England, who was one of England's brightest lights in science and philosophy, during the seventeenth century. Miss Owen is also a great granddaughter of Charles Wald Lieutenant of infantry under Napoleon. She is a worthy representative of these two noted families in her chosen art."

It reminds me, Mr. Editor, of an organ grinder who was recently dragged before the police court in London for having attached to his organ a placard announcing that he had served in the army under three monarchs and that he had a wife and children depending on him. The judge ruled that organ grinders who relied solely on their music were unfairly competed with.

The London Times ironically suggests that this organ grinder had, in an unlucky moment, been reading newspaper announcements of musicians and actresses. He noted how the famous violinist who was to play soon had devoted a deal of his time to sport and was an excellent shot, a good fencer or was a grandson of Count de Urtti. Maybe the organ grinder saw where Madam X, the pianist served her country in many ways or the singer who appears as plain Mr. Y is really a baron. Possibly he saw a statement of the money value of the jewels an operative star was wearing. No doubt he saw these and thus mused "have I no attractions which may reinforce the half dozen stale tunes which is all that the cylinder of my organ can produce?" At any rate he had two, one would not disgrace an astute concert agent to say the least.

No doubt, Mr. Editor this advance dope from these "all star" castes deluges you some time. Their sole object is to create a popular interest if possible, which the gifts of the performers could not be a little bit. It is an inducement to get people to put up the money to keep mediocre and even punk talent from having to go to their size. Often the ancestry or the jewelry is far more interesting than is the performer. The London Times says such specious advertising is "merely dragging in irrelevancies in the hope that they will catch the pence or the shillings of the public, as the organ grinder did."

Such specious coat-of-arms advertising has brought about a ceaseless round of concerts without one feature capable of widening the love of music for music's sake. If a person goes out into the broad world to get its attention, there let that one understand that their only claim to attention rests upon their capacity to add something to the world and not shout hysterically their ancestry or some remote, recondite relation to a certain individual of whom the world may know more or less, as a substitute for personal merit.

This sham the world is suffering from now, I'm not much hero worshipper, Mr. Editor. It doesn't matter who my daddy was, but the world wants to know who and what I am.

ORIENT ROAD IN THE #### HANDS OF RECEIVERS

Kansas City, March 7.—Creditors of the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient railroad late Thursday afternoon filed with the clerk of the federal court in Kansas City, Kan., an application for receivers for the road. The application was made before Judge Pollock. E. C. Dickinson of Kansas City, vice president and general manager of the road, was appointed a receiver and another receiver is to be chosen.

The railroad was projected by A. E. Stillwell about twelve years ago and it was to extend from Kansas City to Topolobampo, Mexico, a distance of 1,239 miles. Nine hundred and eighty-eight miles have been completed and trains are now running over the first portion. The road was financed largely by Dutch and English capitalists.

A. E. Stillwell, the president, is said to be in New York.

The last statement issued by the railroad indicated that its expenditures were greater than its receipts.

ARMORE FIGURES ON NEW RAILROAD

Ardmore, Ok., Mar. 8.—Word was received here today to the effect that the Ardmore-Lawton line will be under construction immediately, if the weather will permit. The letter in question came to a prominent lawyer of this city who declines to make its contents public. Suffice to say, however, the road has been completely financed and the chief engineer for the finance house in Philadelphia will arrive here on March 12th.

It is believed here by those in a position to know that the Frisco and Rock Island will use the joint track as far as Hewitt. It is believed that the Lawton line will go direct to Duncan and Lawton from that point, while the Frisco will go direct to Waurika, and possibly west or southwest from there.

A prominent railroad man, who refused to be quoted, said today that it was a fact that a road would be built from Lawton to Ardmore in the near future, but it was mere conjecture as to whether or not the Frisco would use a portion of the line. He said the Rock Island would, in all likelihood, build across to Waurika, but declared all of this talk about the two lines using the same track to Hewitt was mere conjecture.

A meeting of prominent business men have been asked to meet the engineer on Tuesday, the 12th, and at that time more light will be thrown upon the much discussed question.

Pretty Mothers

Health is the foundation of all good looks. The wise woman realizes this and takes precautions to preserve her health and strength through the period of child bearing. She remains a pretty mother by avoiding as far as possible the suffering and dangers of such occasions. This every woman may do through the use of Mother's Friend, a remedy that has been so long in use, and accomplished so much good, that it is in no sense an experiment, but a preparation which always produces the best results. It is for external application and so penetrating in its nature as to thoroughly lubricate every muscle, nerve and tendon involved during the period before baby comes. It aids nature by expanding the skin and tissues, relieves tenderness and soreness, and perfectly prepares the system for natural and safe motherhood. Mother's Friend has been used and endorsed by thousands of mothers, and its use will prove a comfort and benefit to any woman in need of such a remedy. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers, which contains much valuable information.

WHO DISCOVERED THE SOUTH POLE?

London, March 8.—While intense interest has been aroused in the result attained by the South Polar expeditions, under command of Capt. Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian explorer, and Capt. Robert F. Scott of the British Royal Navy, respectively which are returning from the Antarctic region, dispatches reaching here on the subject are conflicting.

Capt. Amundsen has arrived at Hobart, Tasmania, on the steamer Fram, and according to the first word from that port he declared that Capt. Scott had reached the pole. Up to a late hour tonight, however, no word to that effect has come to Mrs. Scott, wife of the British explorer, who still doubted the achievement and reiterated her hope that the news would prove true.

Nor did Lieut. Evans, the London secretary of the Scott expedition, receive any direct word of Capt. Scott's reported success, and he assumed that he would be among the first notified, probably by a message from Capt. Scott himself through the agency of Capt. Amundsen, if it had happened that the two explorers crossed tracks after their dash to the Pole.

With reference to the results of the Amundsen expedition, dispatches from various points to London say the Norwegian explorer had not been successful in his quest. Later, however, a Copenhagen dispatch said that the Social Democrat published news from Christiania that a telegram from a member of the Fram expedition declared that Amundsen had reached the South Pole. Other reports seem to confirm this.

Reports of Amundsen's success appear at the same time to have disposed of the rumor that Capt. Scott had reached the Pole. None of the authorities here were inclined to credit this latter report unconfirmed.

In the race for the Pole, Britishers, while hoping for the success of the British representatives, entertained fears that Capt. Amundsen would win the honor, as his previous experiences made him a formidable competitor. It was he who discovered the Northwest passage in 1905.

Amundsen had with him a hardy band of Norwegians, who probably were greatly aided by skis in traversing the ice, and he put his faith in Siberian dogs for the supply sleds. He had an advantage of nearly eight months over Capt. Scott in the race for the Pole, his base of supplies was nearly 100 miles nearer the goal and his was not a scientific expedition, but one designed to move swiftly.

The steamer Fram is the vessel with which Dr. Nansen made a journey of thousands of miles in the Arctic Ocean in 1893-96, and on which Amundsen planned to drift with the Arctic ice to the North Pole. Amundsen started in April, 1909, to carry out this drifting trip in search of the North Pole, but changed his plans and in the following year proceeded by way of South America for the Antarctic. Early in 1911 Lieut. Pennell of Capt. Scott's expedition sent word from Stewart Island that he had come on Amundsen's ship in the bay of Whales, Ross Sea, where the Norwegian had made his winter quarters.

Making Good Progress.

A. T. Gurd of the Crosbie company reports that the drillers are still plugging away at the oil well on the Ed Fussell farm. They have had considerable difficulty lately on account of quicksand formation, but at present they are making good progress and hope to be drilling in a different formation by the last of the week. They are drilling night and day. Mr. Gurd believes they are through the artesian water, and that in a few days they will know more about the ultimate prospect for oil or gas.—Roff Eagle.

HIGH SALARIES FOR MILITARY MEN

Austin, Tex., March 8.—Many American refugees from Mexico passed through here Wednesday night and Thursday. Some of them asserted that revolutionists have made offers to American military men of $10 to $15 a day in gold to command the rebel recruits.

They had no information whether such offers met with any success. Some of the refugees said they look for trouble within a fortnight. It was pointed out that no numerous mines and plantations there are many thousands of Mexican peons, and relatives are said to be perfecting organizations to annihilate the peonage camps while their fellow revolutionists are attacking the seat of government.

Red River Highest in Four Years.

Hugo, Ok., March 8.—The Red and Kimichi rivers are reported to be higher than since the memorable flood in 1908.

The Kimichi rose 32 feet in twenty-four hours, ending at 8 o'clock this morning, and has been steadily rising all day.

At the Hugo water station all the streams in Choctaw county have overflowed the low lands and Red River is bank full. Farmers and stockmen report many cattle drowned.

Zone Tolbert Dead.

Yesterday, Zone, the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Tolbert passed away. The funeral services and interment took place this afternoon at Rosedale cemetery.

The little fellow had been ill only a short time and his death comes as a surprise to the many friends of the family. He was a bright child with sunny disposition and bade fair to make a most estimable man when he grew up. Although the hope of meeting the little one in a better world is comforting to the bereaved family, the empty chair in the family circle can never be filled, and tender memories of the little one who brightened the home for six years will ever remain with the parents.

Muskogee Woman Commits Suicide.

Muskogee, Okla., March 7.—Mrs. E. C. Reid, wife of the Muskogee agent for the Wells-Fargo Express company shot herself in the head Thursday noon with a revolver which she had purchased a few minutes previously and died in the Baptist hospital an hour later without regaining consciousness.

Mrs. Reid was apparently enjoying good health and so far as her husband knows had no reason for taking her life. She left her apartments this morning in care of Miss Eva Fuller while she came down town to make some purchases. Among other things she bought a revolver, telling Miss Fuller that she was afraid to be alone at night when her husband was away.

After returning home she went to her room. Miss Fuller soon heard a shot and rushing to the room, found Mrs. Reid lying on the floor, with blood flowing from a wound in the head. Mrs. Reid had shot herself through the mouth, the bullet ranging upward and through the temple.

Mr. Reid believes that his wife shot herself accidentally. She had spoken to him several times about buying a revolver, saying that she was afraid to be left at home at night.

The Reids have two children, one about six years of age and the other an infant about five months old.

How it is Pronounced.

The name of this town has been called to my attention a great many times by residents and others, and I wish to state the name of the town is Konawa, pronounced Ko-na-wa. Now the reason it was not spelled the latter way, was the Postmaster General, when we applied to him asking if we might use this name as a post-office, we were asked to try to make the name sound the same with less letters, as it is policy of the post-office department to have as short names as possible, hence we spelled it Konawa, with the pronunciation of Konawha which it is called by the P. O. officials in Washington as well as the head office of the M., K. & T. at St. Louis. Had we wanted it pronounced as some call it we would have spelled "Konawha." The name Konawha or Konawa is the Indian name for Beads and it is a beautiful name and when I hear someone pronounce the name "Konaw-wa," I feel that he has been misinformed in the spelling. I hope from now on the citizens will all call it by its proper name, Ko-na-wa (Ko-na-wa.)—Geo. Northrup in Konawa Chief-Leader.

The Perpetual Change.

The things of the world are ever rising and falling, and in perpetual change; and this change must be according to the will of God, as he has bestowed upon man neither the wisdom nor the power to enable him to check it. The great lesson in these things is that man must strengthen himself doubly at such times to fulfill his duty, and to do what is right, and must seek his happiness and inward peace from objects which cannot be taken away from him.—Wilhelm von Humboldt.

Origin of "Blackguard."

Blackguard is said to come from a nickname applied to a group of boys always on hand to black the boots of the horse guards who paraded at St. James park, London, although Webster gives its probable origin as coming from the scullions, smutted from handling kitchen utensils. It now means a person of low character, especially one who indulges in scurrilous or abusive language.

Why Willie Was Late.

"Why, Willie, what kept you so late? Did you have to stay after school? I'm afraid you have been naughty." "No, ma'am, I ain't never naughty. Bobby Jones was licked fer bein' naughty, an' I stayed after school to hear him yell."

Assessment is Held Controversy.

Altus, Okla., March 7.—Holding that the assessment was confiscatory and that as an equitable proportion no institutions could exist under such a rate of taxation, Judge Frank Mathews handed down a decision in the district court Wednesday restoring the original assessment in the cases of Miller Bros. department store, City National and Altus state banks, who brought suit against J. S. Moore, county treasurer, to enjoin him from collecting their increased tax.

Miller Brothers' assessment was boosted from $17,000 to $24,000; that of the City National bank from $28,000 to $40,000, and the Altus State bank from $28,000 to $62,000. In the Altus State bank's case the assessment was lowered to $40,000.

These are the first three decisions out of a score of similar cases, and the result of the suits in favor of the tax-payers, which is in effect a holding that the state equalization board had no legal right to boost the assessment, is regarded as a signal victory.

FREAKISH WEATHER IN 1911.

Severe Storms and Abnormal Temperatures Made Many New Records.

The year 1911 long will be remembered for the violence of its weather, says the March Popular Mechanics Magazine. The spring opened mild and delightful, but in June a torrid wave of unparalleled severity swept over the country. The cities baked and gasped for breath, while the burning sun and hot winds withered the corn and cost the farmers a million dollars a day. A little later England was scorched and France and Germany sweltered. The mercury went above 100 degrees in western Canada, and whalers brought back reports from the Arctic regions of open water where always before there had been solid ice. The reports from Mexico and Central America would well describe the lower regions, but it is said that the summer in Iceland was enjoyable.

In August the elements took a different turn and the flood gates of the heavens were opened. Kentucky and the south Atlantic states were deluged, and the Philippines were more thoroughly drowned than they had been before since the time of Noah. Alberta was visited by a killing frost which ruined hundreds of pioneer farmers. A cyclone devastated Costa Rica and a violent gale swept the south Atlantic coast, destroying a great number of vessels. During the later fall, the north Atlantic was tormented by a series of more violent storms than were known to the oldest sea captains. In November the southern states were visited by a killing frost, while December was remarkable for its high temperatures.

Aside from the extreme heat, the frosts of the far north and the sunny south, and the violent storms at sea, the year 1911 was still exceptional. The mean temperature of every month except November was above the average of that of the forty years covered by the records of the United States weather bureau. The average daily excess was from four to six degrees.

On account of the affliction in the family of Judge C. A. Powers, the meeting of the Pioneer 42 club with Judge and Mrs. C. A. Galbraith has been indefinitely postponed.

Mr. Mercer predicts that a heavy immigration will soon be headed this way.
